

Yavanne Jaramillo: Taos, New Mexico

Metal Furniture

Yavanne was born and raised in Denver, Colorado. She moved to Taos about 16 years ago because of her love of the mountains and her spiritual connection with the area. The culture and the setting in Taos provides her with the inspiration for her oil painting and metal art.

Yavanne enjoys various modes of art including drawing, metal art, and of course, oil painting. As a young woman, she pursued a career as a certified welder for 20 years, which led to her interest in metal art. She also remembers as a child how she enjoyed drawing immensely. She has always enjoyed the process of creation and the beauty that is produced through self-expression using various art forms. Last year Yavanne won 2nd Place in Hispanic Arts at Tesoro's Spanish Colonial Market.
