

Anthony Gatewood, Peralta, New Mexico

Isleta Pueblo Jewelry

Anthony is the creator of Sunrise Inlay, which is the extension of the Southwest's vibrant Native art. Exquisite jewelry fabrication extends far into Anthony's history as he began as an apprentice at age 16 under his renowned uncles, Andy Lee Kirk and Michael Kirk. Anthony currently extends and challenges his knowledge of manipulating fine metals and natural stones by encasing them in traditional Native American designs as well as contemporary designs. Arrays of natural stones are used in the intricately detailed 14 karat gold and sterling silver inlay work. Anthony took 2nd Place for Jewelry at The Tesoro Indian Market & Powwow in 2007.

