

Nanabah Aragon, St. Michaels, Arizona

Navajo Diné

Navajo Rug Weaving

Nanabah began weaving at the age of seven. She learned Navajo traditional weaving from her Mother. Nanabah has been weaving throughout the United States at various museums & shows to include The Heard Museum, The Gene Autry Museum, The Smoke Museum, The Charlotte Hall Museum, The Museum of Man, and The Brisco Western Art Museum. Nanabah has shown her work at the Santa Fe Indian Market, Gallup Intertribal Indian Ceremonials, and the 2002 Winter Olympics in Salt Lake City, and many other fairs, markets and events.

Nanabah is a teacher of weaving, a lecturer and storyteller of the Navajo weaving. She is known internationally for her work and contribution to the arts.

