

Ronald Kil, Santa Fe, New Mexico

Painting

Ronald Kil is an artist of the historical west. His subject matter spans the centuries from prehistoric Indian hunters to the cowboys of the 1920s. Ron works in oil, watercolor and ink with sizes ranging from miniatures to murals. A former working ranch cowboy, he left the ranches to become a full-time artist and illustrator in 2001. Ron credits God and his faith in Jesus Christ for the victories in his life. He currently maintains a studio near Santa Fe, NM.

Accomplishments:

- Mountain Oyster Club – works shown and sold
- Frank Brownell Museum of the Southwest in Raton, NM – multiple award winning murals
- Songs of the Cowboys, Palace Press – artist for multiple awards -winning books
- NM Centennial Calendar and Fine Arts Poster
- Illustrated over 30 books
- National Park Service – commissioned for several historic marker signs

Collections:

- Buckhorn Museum (former Texas Ranger Room), San Antonio, TX
- New Mexico Farm & Ranch Heritage Center, Las Cruces, NM
- La Casa Esquela Museum, Glorieta, NM
- El Rancho de Las Golindrinas, Santa Fe, NM
- Frank Brownell Museum of the Southwest, Raton, NM

Shows:

- New Mexico Farm and Ranch Heritage Museum
- Three Trails History Conference
- Casweck Gallery One Man Show, Santa Fe, NM
- Old Pass Gallery, Raton, NM
- Palace of the Governors, Santa Fe, NM
- Frank Brownell Museum of the Southwest

Tesoro Cultural Center is pleased to welcome Ron to his first appearance as Artist in Residence at the Living History Experience, 2017.

