

Pete Johnson, Las Vegas, New Mexico

*Navajo
Silversmith*

Inspired by the works of the award winning Navajo Silversmith, Thomas Curtis, Pete Johnson started to work with heavy gauge silver about 8 years ago. The silver jewelry that he creates is formed and shaped through a lengthy process of heavy stamping and filing. His silver work is characterized by intricate heavy stamping. He will often fashion his pieces with Lapis, Coral or Turquoise stones to create beautiful silver buckles, bolo ties, bracelets, pendants and earrings.
