

Antonio Mace, Albuquerque, New Mexico

Dine (Navajo) Nation

Scratchboard, painting, drawing

I was born in Albuquerque, New Mexico and Harvey Mace is my father and I watched him and helped him do shows since I was a teenager. I learned all these techniques I use as an artist by myself. I am a self-taught artist from my graphite portraits to my scratch board portraits. I never went to school for any of these media art forms. I do small silversmith work, graphite pencil portraits, acrylic paintings, and ampersand scratch board art.
